Correct After-Blessing after Incorrect Fore-Blessing

SITUATION	You said an incorrect or too-general fore-blessing over food (even she'hakol which does, b'di'avad, cover all foods, including bread, wine, the Five Special Fruits, and mezonot). Or you forgot to say the fore-blessing.
WHAT TO DO	You must still say the more-specific, correct after-blessing, including birkat ha'mazon when appropriate.
REASON	You must still say the correct after-blessing even though you said the incorrect fore-blessing.

© Copyright 2025 Richard B. Aiken | www.practicalhalacha.com