LOANS: CHARGING INTEREST (RIBIT)

General Law on Heter Iska

A Jew is not permitted to charge interest (ribit) for a loan made to another Jew. A heter.iska should be used in any case where a loan has been made between Jews if more money will be paid back than what was received.

NOTE In some cases, if you prepay for a purchase and thereby get a discount, it might be considered as interest paid on a loan, and you would need a heter_iska.

Charging Interest: Loans or Borrowed Items

Prohibitions of charging interest (ribit) apply only to loans of money or a commodity (halva'a), not to borrowed items (she'eila):

1. Loan/Halva'a

You do not get back the exact item you loaned but, rather, some equivalent of the original, such as money. The borrower may not give back more than he/she borrowed and the recipient may not accept more. Even saying "thanks" is considered to be a form of interest.

2. Borrowed Items/She'eila

The original item is returned to the loaner (for example, borrowing a car), and there is no prohibition of paying more than what was originally received.

Heter Iska in Normal Language

If you use a heter_iska for a loan, the document should be in English or whatever is the normal language of both parties.
